

with all of the telemarketing scams etc. it would be in the best interest of the state to continue supporting the no call list. It is very frustrating to get interrupted not only in the evenings, but on the weekends with these calls. Banks should not be given special treatment, they make enough money off of us as it is!